

Calendar No. 115

115TH CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

S. RES. 114

Expressing the sense of the Senate on humanitarian crises in Nigeria,
Somalia, South Sudan, and Yemen.

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

APRIL 5 (legislative day, APRIL 4), 2017

Mr. YOUNG (for himself, Mr. CARDIN, Mr. GARDNER, Mr. COONS, Mr. RUBIO, Mr. BOOZMAN, and Mr. BOOKER) submitted the following resolution; which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations

JUNE 5, 2017

Reported by Mr. CORKER, with an amendment and an amendment to the preamble

[Strike out all after the resolving clause and insert the part printed in italic]

[Strike the preamble and insert the part printed in italic]

RESOLUTION

Expressing the sense of the Senate on humanitarian crises in Nigeria, Somalia, South Sudan, and Yemen.

Whereas ~~Nigeria, Somalia, South Sudan, and Yemen are all in famine, pre-famine, or “at risk of famine” stages in 2017;~~,

Whereas, according to the United Nations Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs (UNOCHA), 20,000,000 people are at risk of starvation within the next six months in Nigeria, Somalia, South Sudan, and Yemen;

Whereas, on March 22, 2017, Mr. Yves Daeccord, the Director-General of the International Committee of the Red Cross, testified that the crisis represents “one of the most critical humanitarian issues to face mankind since the end of the Second World War” and warned that “we are at the brink of a humanitarian mega-crisis unprecedented in recent history”;

Whereas, according to the United States Agency for International Development (USAID), “More than 5.1 million people face severe food insecurity in northeastern Nigeria”;

Whereas, according to USAID, “An estimated 6.2 million people—more than half of Somalia’s total population—currently require urgent humanitarian assistance.”;

Whereas, according to USAID, “An estimated 5.5 million people—nearly half of South Sudan’s population—will face life threatening hunger by July.”;

Whereas, according to USAID, in Yemen, “More than seventeen million people—an astounding 60% of the country’s population—are food insecure, including seven million people who are unable to survive without food assistance.”;

Whereas, according to the United Nations Children’s Fund (UNICEF), “Some 22 million children have been left hungry, sick, displaced and out of school in the four countries. Nearly 1.4 million are at imminent risk of death this year from severe malnutrition.”;

Whereas the humanitarian crises in each of these regions are, to varying degrees, man-made and preventable—exacerbated by armed conflict, disregard for international humanitarian law, and deliberate restrictions on humanitarian access;

Whereas parties to the conflicts have harassed, attacked, and killed humanitarian workers, blocking and hindering humanitarian access and depriving the world's most hungry people of the food they need;

Whereas humanitarian actors, coordinated by UNOCHA, are appealing for $5,600,000,000 in 2017 to address famines in Yemen, South Sudan, Nigeria, and Somalia, $4,400,000,000 of which is required urgently; and

Whereas Mr. Daccord testified on March 22, 2017, “Our message is clear: immediate, decisive action is needed to prevent vast numbers of people starving to death.”; Now, therefore, be it

Whereas Nigeria, Somalia, South Sudan, and Yemen are all in famine, pre-famine, or at risk of famine in 2017;

Whereas, according to the United Nations Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs (OCHA), 20,000,000 people are at risk of starvation this year in Nigeria, Somalia, South Sudan, and Yemen;

Whereas, on March 22, 2017, Mr. Yves Daccord, the Director-General of the International Committee of the Red Cross, testified before Congress that the crisis represents “one of the most critical humanitarian issues to face mankind since the end of the Second World War” and warned that “we are at the brink of a humanitarian mega-crisis unprecedented in recent history”;

Whereas, according to the United States Agency for International Development (USAID), “[m]ore than 5.1 million people face severe food insecurity in northeastern Nigeria”;

Whereas, according to USAID, “An estimated 6.2 million people—more than half of Somalia’s total population—currently require urgent humanitarian assistance.”;

Whereas, according to USAID, “An estimated 5.5 million people—nearly half of South Sudan’s population—will face life threatening hunger by July.”;

Whereas, according to USAID, in Yemen, “More than seventeen million people—an astounding 60% of the country’s population—are food insecure, including seven million people who are unable to survive without food assistance.”;

Whereas, according to the United Nations Children’s Fund (UNICEF), “[s]ome 22 million children have been left hungry, sick, displaced and out of school in the four countries” and “Nearly 1.4 million are at imminent risk of death this year from severe malnutrition.”;

Whereas the humanitarian crises in each of these regions are, to varying degrees, man-made and preventable—exacerbated by armed conflict and deliberate restrictions on humanitarian access;

Whereas parties to the conflicts, including even some government forces, have harassed, attacked, and killed humanitarian workers, blocked and hindered humanitarian access, and continue to deprive the world’s most hungry people of the food they need;

Whereas humanitarian actors, coordinated by OCHA, have appealed for $5,600,000,000 in 2017 to address famines in Yemen, South Sudan, Nigeria, and Somalia; and

Whereas Mr. Daccord testified before Congress on March 22, 2017, “Our main message is clear: immediate, decisive action is needed to prevent vast numbers of people starving to death.”: Now, therefore, be it

1 Resolved, That—

2 (A) it is the sense of the Senate that—

3 (A) United States national security inter-
4 ests and the values of the American people de-
5 mand that the United States lead an urgent
6 and comprehensive international diplomatic ef-
7 fort to address obstacles in Nigeria, Somalia,
8 South Sudan, and Yemen that are preventing
9 humanitarian aid from being delivered to mil-
10 lions of people who desperately need it;

11 (B) the President should encourage other
12 governments to join the United States in pro-
13 viding the resources necessary to meet the 14 $5,600,000,000 UNOCHA appeal to address
15 the humanitarian crises in Nigeria, Somalia,
16 South Sudan, and Yemen;

17 (C) parties to the conflicts in Nigeria, So-
18 malia, South Sudan, and Yemen must respect
19 fully international humanitarian law by allowing 20 and facilitating rapid and unimpeded passage of 21 humanitarian relief for civilians in need and re-
22 pecting and protecting humanitarian and med-
23 ical relief personnel and objects; and

24 (D) the President, working with inter-
25 national partners, should work to identify and

1 document violations of international humanitarian
2 law in Nigeria, Somalia, South Sudan,
3 and Yemen seeking to bring perpetrators to justice
4 where possible; and

5 (2) the Senate—

6 (A) urges the President, in close coordination
7 with international partners, to employ
8 every appropriate strategy to persuade the Government
9 of South Sudan to stop blocking aid
10 for people who desperately need it;

11 (B) calls on the President to notify Congress without delay if the Government of South
12 Sudan does not immediately and fully respect
13 international humanitarian law so that Congress can work with the President to impose
14 additional costs on the government and leaders
15 of South Sudan for their deplorable actions;

16 (C) urges the President to press the Government of Nigeria to take tangible and immediate steps to ensure accountability for security
17 forces that violate human rights and fail to cooperate fully with international aid efforts;

18 (D) calls on the President to send the Secretary of State or other high level representative to attend the upcoming United Kingdom's

1 Ministerial Conference on Somalia and publicly
2 announce a contribution to the humanitarian
3 assistance efforts which will help leverage other
4 international donors; and

5 (E) urges the President to work urgently
6 with stakeholders to persuade parties to conflict
7 in Yemen to permit humanitarian groups in-
8 creased access to Red Sea ports like Hodeida to 9 deliver much-needed assistance to vulnerable
10 communities.

11 That it is the sense of the Senate that—

12 *(1) the United States should lead an urgent and 13 comprehensive international diplomatic effort to ad-
14 dress obstacles in Nigeria, Somalia, South Sudan,
15 and Yemen that are preventing humanitarian aid
16 from being delivered to millions of people who des-
17 perately need it;*

18 *(2) the United States should encourage other gov-
19 ernments to join the United States in providing the 20 resources necessary to address the humanitarian cri-
21 ses in Nigeria, Somalia, South Sudan, and Yemen;*

22 *(3) parties to the conflicts in Nigeria, Somalia,
23 South Sudan, and Yemen should allow and facilitate 24 rapid and unimpeded passage of humanitarian relief*

1 for civilians in need and respect and protect humani-
2 tarian and medical relief personnel and objects; and
3 (4) the United States, working with inter-
4 national partners, should support efforts to hold ac-
5 countable those responsible for deliberate restrictions
6 on humanitarian access in Nigeria, Somalia, South
7 Sudan, and Yemen.

Calendar No. 115

115TH CONGRESS
1ST SESSION
S. RES. 114

RESOLUTION

Expressing the sense of the Senate on humanitarian crises in Nigeria, Somalia, South Sudan, and Yemen.

JUNE 5, 2017

Reported with an amendment and an amendment to the preamble